CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

ELIMINO JOHN BINA

Elmino John Bina is a Tanzanian business executive and entrepreneur heavily involved in the nation's industrial development, specifically within the mining and trading sectors.

He acts as a key business associate and stakeholder in joint mining and commercial trading operations. His work centers on the strategic and structured expansion of local resource extraction and trade, particularly within resource-rich areas of Tanzania like the Mara and Simiyu regions.

Elmino John Bina operates in close alignment with major local industry players, including John Wambura Bina (Chairperson of John Bina Mining Company Limited), establishing robust corporate frameworks to manage regional mining interests.

His management style emphasizes high-level oversight of site-specific activities. This includes strict adherence to requisition workflows, budget tracking for site visits (particularly in gold-rich zones like Mara and Simiyu), and the systematic reporting necessary for keeping joint ventures transparent and well-managed. Beyond day-to-day operations, he focuses on the long-term sustainability of his business entities. This involves active engagement in the formal drafting of company constitutions and the equitable distribution of shares, ensuring that the legal and ownership structures are robust and scalable.

DIRECTOR BIOGRAPHY

John Wambura Bina is a distinguished Tanzanian mining entrepreneur and industry leader with over three decades of experience in the mining sector, specializing in gold exploration, underground mining operations, and mineral resource development.

Born in Musoma, in the Mara Region, Mr. Bina developed an early interest in mining, growing up in a region historically known for its mineral potential. His career began in artisanal and small-scale mining, where he acquired practical, hands-on experience in gold extraction and field operations. Over the years, he successfully transitioned into structured mining ventures, building a reputation for resilience, operational expertise, and deep knowledge of Tanzania's mineral landscape.

Mr. Bina is the Founder and Director of John Bina Mining Company Limited, a holding company engaged in mining operations, exploration activities, and strategic mineral investments across Tanzania. Under his leadership, the company has evolved from small-scale operations into a growing enterprise focused on developing sustainable and commercially viable mining projects. His strategic vision emphasizes operational efficiency, resource optimization, and long-term value creation.

In addition to his entrepreneurial achievements, Mr. Bina serves as the President of Federation of Miners Association of Tanzania (FEMATA), a national body representing miners across the country. In this capacity, he plays a critical role in advocating for the interests of artisanal and small-scale miners, engaging with government institutions, and contributing to the development of policies that promote responsible and inclusive growth within the mining sector. His leadership has been instrumental in strengthening collaboration between miners, regulators, and investors.

Throughout his career, Mr. Bina has been actively involved in the development and operation of multiple mining sites, gaining extensive experience in shaft sinking, underground minedevelopment, ore extraction, and mineral processing techniques. His technical understanding, combined with his leadership capabilities, has enabled him to successfully oversee mining projects from early-stage exploration through to production.

Mr. Bina is widely recognized for his commitment to formalizing the mining sector, improving safety standards, and promoting sustainable mining practices. He has consistently championed the adoption of modern technologies and structured operational frameworks to enhance productivity and profitability within Tanzania's mining industry.

As a key promoter of emerging projects such as the Nyawa Gold Project, Kinyambwiga Gold Project and Dutwa Gold Project. Mr. Bina continues to play a pivotal role in attracting investment, fostering strategic partnerships, and driving the transformation of mining operations from artisanal to medium-scale and beyond.

With his extensive experience, strong industry networks, and visionary leadership, John Wambura Bina remains a respected figure in Tanzania's mining sector and a driving force behind the growth and modernization of the industry.
